

PRESS RELEASE

Acquisition of the CADD Department at CDWare Technologies inc.

December 14th, 2011 - Geo-Plus, the company behind the Vision Series; designer and developer of the different software's solution for the land surveying and civil engineering, announced the acquisition of the CADD department at CDWare Technologies Inc. (CDW). Those new solutions will be for field software and field notebook, GPS localization of road and civil road engineering software; will for now on be further essential part of the Vision Series at Geo-Plus, who will ensure the proper development and maintenance of the solutions owned by the DOT's.

The acquisition of the CAD division of CDWare Technologies Inc., a company based in Quebec City and Sherbrooke, favors shares for Geo-Plus, already recognized as a leader in the field of surveying and civil engineering, in geomatics area. In an interview Mr. Beaupre, president of the company Geo-Plus, explained the facts as follows: "The combination of software and knowledge developed by CDWare Technologies and those of Geo-Plus will enable our customers to benefit from a more complete solution, "then added," We expect this acquisition to bring more efficiency and a significant improvement in market share. "

About CDWare Technologies inc - Founded in 1996, CDWare Technologies is a technology company multidisciplinary expertise is recognized, particularly in the transport and health area. CDW is active nationally as an expert advisor to SMEs, government agencies and parastatals, offering solutions to administrative, technical and organization for vehicle fleets and assets. For more information about CDW, visit the website at: <http://technologies.cdware.net>.

About Geo-Plus - Founded in 1987, Geo-Plus has been developing a series of software's solution for surveyors, civil engineers, appraisers and other professionals from the sectors of land management. The Vision Series software's are developed to a high standard and the latest standards on the market. The mission of the company, review and continuously improve Geo-Plus products to meet the specific needs of clients from various fields of expertise. The company is currently in development of new markets, including Europe, Asia, North America and South America, to become the leader in geomatics world. For more information about Geo-Plus, visit the website at: <http://www.geo-plus.com>.

For more information, please contact:

Mr. Wilfrid Beaupre
T: 1.800.672.1733 - F: 1.866.635.7344
Email: information@geo-plus.com

